HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by H. E. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongue to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated. It rests on India Rubber and is thus entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant and is convenient, safe and secure.
It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO FEBRUARY 16

Congressional

WASHINGTON, Feb 15.—In the Senate the Vice President submitted a communication from the Secretary of War with accompanying bill relative to the acquisition of sites for coast defenses. Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Morton offered a resolution which was adopted asking the President for information as to the number, character, cost and present condition of the iron clads belonging to the United States navy.

The bill to abolish the franking privilege was taken up. The question being on the motion of Drake to allow free transmission of newspaper exchanges, Merrill delivered an argument on the necessity of various modifications of the bill in the event of its passage. The bill was laid aside.

The Mississippi bill was taken up. Bayard replied to Morton and denied the assumption that the constitutional definition of a republican form of government progressed with the times and claimed that the Constitution was now, as heretofore, the supreme law. Morton briefly replied to the argument of the Senator from Delaware.

Davis read a lengthy written argument relative to the powers of the Federal and State governments.

Conference commissioners were appointed on disagreeing amendments to the naval deficiency bill and the military academy bill. The Senate then adjourned.

In the House, Julian from the Committee on Public Lands, offered a resolution to close the Land offices of any State where unsold public lands do not exceed ten thousand acres. Passed.

A question arose on the order of business, and finally a resolution which was reported from the Committee on Foreign Relations, in reference to the imprisonment of Americans in England for political purposes got the preference. Swann spoke in support of the resolution. About a dozen members obtained permission to have their speeches printed in the Globe.

The resolution which calls on the President for information was then adopted and the House took up the contested election case of the Eleventh District of New York, Green against Van Wyck. The subject was discussed till half past four and went over till to-morrow.

After the introduction of a few bills the House adjourned.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Among the nominations sent in to-day was that of Charles H. Hempstead for United States Attorney for Utah.

Private letters from Georgia confirm the reports of the continued ill health of Alexander H. Stephens.

The Secretary of War submitted to the Senate a bill designed to facilitate the acquisition of sites for national works of defense, and to protect the public treasury against combinations sometimes formed by owners of real estate required for public use for the purpose of extorting exhorbitant prices.

General Fitz John Porter's case is in the hands of the President, bearing General Sherman's endorsement of Porter's application for the remission of penalties. Gen. Porter does not seek nor desire pardon, but a revision of his case in the presence of new evidence. His friends and he are willing to submit his case to the President, General Sherman and the Secretary of War, or other high officers. Under a law of Congress, the President may practically revise courtmartial proceedings by the reappointment of the party affected by a verdict. The renomination placed the matter before the Senate; or, the executive may, without appointment, remit the penalties where injustice has been done. General Porter seeks remission only, and insists that the Government cannot properly refuse to hear new evidence. The following is an extract from the opinion of Gen. McClellan: "Additional evidence now attainable shows beyond question that General Pope was mistaken in the belief which he then entertained, that Longstreet was still remote from the field of battle and that Porter had only a small force in his front. It proves that an attack by a portion any time after General McDowell's departure would, in all probability, it might be said with certainty, (were there any such thing as absolute certainty in war) have resulted in a complete repulse with great useless sacrifice of life. It proves that Porter's arrangements were excellent. They enabled him to hold a superior force in check. It proves that far from meriting the severe sentence imposed upon him, he, in fact, deserves great praise for his conduct on that day."

The Election Committee view the action of the House yesterday as adverse to the adoption of the new plan of drawing a Jury from the House by lot, and will proceed at once to the contested cases.

The Committee of Ways and Means heard the delegates of the sugar refiners in New York who claimed to represent the interest of importers as well as their own. They want a more numerous classification of sugars than that in the bill reported but the probability is they will not get it. The bill may be amended so as to leave in the Custom House samples of imported sugars for subsequent examination.

The Committee of Ways and Means have decided by the vote of five to four to make the Internal Revenue a separate department.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee to-day had a protracted discussion over Morton and Sherman's Cuban Neutrality Resolution, without reaching any conclusion.

The bill never passed the Legislature. Mayor Rice refuses to give up his office. It is said he will call upon the people to sustain him.

Petition to make Cincinnati a Port of Entry

CINCINNATI, Feb 16.—There was a meeting of importers this morning to take steps to secure the passage of a bill making Cincinnati a port of entry. Resolutions were adopted providing for a committee to visit Washington and urge the passage of such a bill. The same committee to correspond with Chicago and St. Louis in order to secure a concert of action. The meeting was more business like than anything yet done in connection with the question. The city council unanimously adopted resolutions inviting the Governor of Kentucky and his staff and members of the Legislature of that State to visit Cincinnati when it suits their convenience.

A denial was made on the part of the Government that negotiations had been entered upon for renewal of the commercial treaty with France.

Gladstone then asked leave to bring in a bill for land reform in Ireland. He referred to laws [illegible] when he introduced the Irish Church bill [illegible]. [illegible] to meet the demands of Ireland were promised and he said he would now fulfil the promise. He reviewed the land [illegible] at length, comparing the Irish land tenure with that of England and Scotland, and recounted the grievances of the Irish tenantry, and alluded to the failure of half a century of legislation to afford relief. He then enumerated the features of the bill. It provides for the security of tenure and increases the facilities of transfer and [illegible] of land [illegible] to tenants desiring to buy and to landlords to enable them to retain the land. The new law is to be administered by a court of arbitration. The Ulster customs are to be recognized and improvements [illegible] valued to the tenants who are to be [illegible] from payment of rent. All [illegible] against tenants are barred [illegible] to the tenant a year's time from the end of the current year, and the [illegible] between landlord and tenant. The bill will be read the second time on the seventh of March.

MADRID, Feb 1[illegible].—Duke Montpensier has arrived here and is already in intimate communication with Prim. He has had [illegible] views with [illegible] which [illegible] causes much comment.

During the session of the Cortes yesterday the Government was interrogated as to the urgency of the treaty with England [illegible] slavery being now [illegible] that the right of search which the treaty gave to England was leading to a [illegible] interference with the Spanish share of the rich commerce with Africa. Senor Silvetta replied that by treaty England paid [illegible] for the right of search and it was a fair bargain, but the Government would [illegible] England to revise the treaty as Spain would no longer countenance or allow the importation of negroes.

The Duke Montpensier leaves Madrid to-day.

[illegible] he has decided to remain incog. [illegible] his presence was known throughout the city [illegible] he will proceed to London.

PARIS, Feb 15.—The persons arrested during the recent disorders have nearly all had their preliminary examinations. Thus far 104 have been ordered to appear before the courts.

In the Corps Legislatif to-day M. Chevenil, Deputy of the Left, asserted that his party in the Chamber really represented a majority of the country. This called forth an indignant denial from Ollivier, who declared the present minority the true representatives of the majority. Supported by it he said they would do their duty. A wrong government might have considerable opposition but it would not sacrifice its policy. The majority is not intolerant but the minority have no right to speak in the name of the nation. Jules Favre declared that the Minister had insulted the party of the Left. Ollivier concluded the discussion by stating that the Government would persist in a liberal course, but would resist dangerous agitation, whether in the streets or the press.

Advices from Constantinople represent that the Armenians by a large majority have decided not to recognize the authority of their Patriarch for the reason that he is too feeble to resist the encroachments of the Pope on the rights of Eastern Catholics. The Turkish government is disposed to support the Armenians, and fears are entertained of a schism between them and Rome.

LISBON, Feb 15.—Rio Janeiro journals contain accounts of an engagement at Rio Verde. The Brazilians under Col Tarvoes assaulted and carried the Paraguayan entrenchments without loss. Lopez was near the scene of action. Some of his officers have gone over to the Brazilians.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—There was but little done in the mining share market this morning, though an increased firmness was noticeable.

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held at 2 P M to-day for the purpose of discussing the pilotage question. Mr. Pierce offered a resolution to the effect that the committee previously appointed to draft a bill presenting the ideas of the Chamber of Commerce, having performed its duty, be discharged. A bill reported by the minority, and drafted by Mr. Pierce, is now before the Legislature, and the question of disavowing its principles was discussed.

Young Lady Drowned.

TRUCKEE, Cal., Feb 16.—John Rice, Miss Rice and Miss Holcomb, in returning from a dance last night at Bangor, in crossing the Honcut the buggy was upset, and Miss Rice was drowned. Mr. Rice had them both in his arms at one time, but by some means his sister got away and was drowned. Her father and mother are both in White Pine, and have been telegraphed for.

HOW POPES ARE CHOSEN.—An English writer on "The Constitution of Papal Conclaves," gives some curious information as to the mode in which the Cardinals elect a Pope. Upon the death of a Pope, one of the Cardinals, whose duty it is to represent supreme authority during the interregnum, proceeds with a gilt mallet to knock at the Pope's door, and then to tap the forehead of the dead Pope with a silver mallet. The great bell of the capitol is then tolled, to summon the conclave; but nine days must pass before the actual meeting, to give all time to arrive. On the ninth day the Cardinals meet in the Church of St. Sylvester, and walk in procession to the Quirinal Palace, where they are, three hours after sunset, closely locked up until an election is made. Each Cardinal has his cell, and is supposed to fix his choice in perfect solitude free from all external influence. But their eminences are not shut up alone. Each Cardinal may have with him two conclavists, or confidential private secretaries, and these have sometimes been able to play an important part in the Papal elections, their practices having been more than once as adroit and successful as those of our own "logrollers." Besides the conclavists, there is a population of confessors, physicians, &c., down to barbers, carpenters and sweepers. These being locked and barred in, the Cardinals vote each day until an election is accomplished. A simple ballot is taken in the forenoon and if no election is made, a second is taken in the afternoon, but only to transfer votes to either of the names voted for in the morning. If there is still no election, the ballots are thrown upon the fire in the chapel, and the smoke from the chimney announces to the people that the church is still without a head. The strictest precautions are used to prevent fraud, but not always with success. Even Cardinals have been known to resort to tricks. Betting on a Papal election was prohibited by a bull of Pius IV, yet Cardinals would send out by the turning wheel used to introduce their meals instructions for putting numbers into the lottery.

A Nantucket correspondent gives an entertaining illustration of the gradual progress of [illegible] in this anecdote about a shipmate who accompanied him on one of his early whaling voyages. Stiles was a simple hearted, true spirited [illegible] fellow, and when we sailed had been paying attention for some time to a young lady, who, he had reason to think, did not fully reciprocate his ardent feelings. At all events the parting on her side was not as affectionate as he could wish. He was impressed with the belief that she only kept him as a stand-by in default of a better [illegible].

[illegible] he would say with a [illegible] shake of the head, "I don't believe Ann Jones will have me anyhow."

When we had been out a few months, and had met with fair success, Stiles's tone was [illegible]. The burden of his monologue changed to "Well, I don't know but what Ann [illegible] after all."

With a thousand barrels of oil under hatches, he became more hopeful. "Chances is pretty good for Ann Jones," he would say [illegible].

At fifteen hundred barrels he had assumed a self satisfied manner and soliloquized: "I guess there is no danger but what Ann Jones [illegible]. At two thousand barrels [illegible] me now [illegible]."

When we took the last whale that was to fill the vessel and [illegible] homeward, Stiles threw his hat in the air with a wild [illegible] "I'll have [illegible]."

A [illegible] had been proposed [illegible] Advertiser says of the project: "[illegible] that a great enterprise [illegible] the value of such [illegible] and there [illegible] were anyone to oppose [illegible] the dream of [illegible] an accomplished [illegible] to the projectors of [illegible] in the highest [illegible]."

Excessive Laudation.

e Democratic organ in this city makes a ado over the doings of Mr. Smith in and draws a comparison between [illegible] and that of our Senators, to the vantage of the latter. It says that "while ams has been busy with reconstruction while Corbett has been cudgelling his s over the national finances (which Mr. gen could arrange with very much less ulty) our Representative in the lower se has been assiduously at work further- the [illegible] interests of his constituents." are not surprised to find a paper which season and out of season praises Mungen, epudiator, placing a high estimate also he statesmanship and influence of Mr. h. None of the measures so pompously bed to Mr. Smith are his at all. The Salt and Columbia River railroad bill origi- d with Judge Williams, was by him intro- d in the Senate and was naturally en- ed to Mr. Smith to be introduced e House. This bill was introduced udge Williams on the 6th Decem- and full information in regard to its pro- s was given shortly afterwards in the onian. The bill to vacate the Umatilla rvation, which has also been ascribed to mith, was one of Williams' measures, troduced by him in the Senate and sent e House by the hand of Mr. Smith. No al measure of any importance to Oregon een prepared by Mr. Smith and brought m before Congress. So far he has sim- ttended in the House to a portion of the mapped out by the Senators. He is ely known in Washington, being a new and a member of the small minority , and possesses as little influence as the obscure Democratic member in the But he has judgment enough to ap- ate his position, and would never claim imself such great things as some of the e organs of his party claim for him. As to Raising a Revenue.

e Salem Press would have us understand its party objects both to the tariff and in- l revenue systems because it holds that nly constitutional way of raising a nation- venue is for the General Government to t the whole matter to the States, and per- hem to raise it by direct taxation. It censures "the Radical Congress" for ing this power away from the States and ising it according to their own discre- " Now the Press ought to explain how ppened that its own party when in power not collect the revenue in the only "con- tional" way, instead of setting the ex- e of collecting it which the "Radicals" followed. In Democratic times we ys had a tariff, and sometimes it was a protective tariff too. When Mr. Madi- was President we had an internal reve- system that was the prototype of the one existing, with its multifarious taxes and horde of officials." And never since the nt Constitution was adopted has the rnment relied on the States for the col- on of its revenues. That was the great elt under the old Confederation, and it the principal evil which led to the forma- of a new system of Government. As Press informs us that Democrats "object th the plans adopted by the Radicals to revenue," it ought to explain why Dem- s, during the long years they were in r, did not show us a better way. It t to explain, in fact, why its party gave th the "plans" which it now condemns nconstitutional. Surely one who knows to come out so strong on "the earlier better days of the Republic" should be to vindicate the policy of the said 'ear- and better days.'

Editorial Notes.

They talk of dull times at the East, but Boston is certainly doing its full share of business. The regular monthly accounts of business for 1869, and for January, 1870, show an increase over the corresponding months of last year of from 25 to 100 per cent.

The New York Tribune says "it is distinctly understood at Washington that the action of the House in passing the bill to abolish the franking privilege was a blind," and that the Senate is expected to kill it. Such may be the case, for such strategy as this is sometimes resorted to in the highest as well as the lowest legislative bodies.

There can be no doubt that work on the Northern Pacific Railroad will soon actually begin. The surveying parties now in the field in Minnesota, are undoubtedly locating the route, and ground will so be formally broken. It is confidently believed at the East that at least two hundred miles of the road will be finished this year.

Daily trains are running regularly over the Utah Central Railroad from Ogden to Salt Lake City. The time between the two points is about two and a half hours. In the meantime, with the advent of the railroad era, the schism in the Mormon Church, led by Godbey and other goodly men, grows apace. In this connection, an old saw newly set would seem to read: Railroad communications corrupt good Mormons!

The Democratic Club at St. Louis, Marion county, resolve that, "as we believe a large portion of the debt to have been contracted in fraud, so much thereof should be repudiated." This is equivalent to going the whole figure for repudiation; for of course if it rested with this party to decide how much of the debt is fraudulent they would declare it all so, and the next thing would be to sponge it out. But they won't have the power.

Congressman Smith has written a letter to the Herald which does not speak very well for his sagacity and statesmanship. After stating that the main trunk of the Northern Pacific Railroad will probably be built down the Columbia and that the company will then ask leave to extend a branch to the Sound, Mr. Smith very blindly adds the remark that that "most likely the [illegible] will never be built." Is this his idea of the future growth of this region of country? If it is, he would do well to try to enlarge it a little. Yes, yes, Mr. Smith, there will be a railroad from Oregon to [illegible].

The Franking Privilege.

The bill to abolish the franking privilege which the House passed with astonishing rapidity, repeals all laws giving to any officer or department of the Government, or other persons the right either to send or receive through the mails, free of postage, any letter, document, or other mailable matter. The act is intended to take effect on and after the 1st of July next. As the question is really one of considerable importance, the discussion will be read with interest. It was as follows:

Mr. F[illegible] reported a bill and asked to have it made a special order.

Mr. Cullom—I hope it will be put on its passage now.

Mr. Holman—No objection to that.

Mr. Orth—Let us pass it now.

The bill was read.

Mr. Cullom—Let the bill be put on its passage at once, without any speeches.

Mr. Ingersoll—Let that be done.

Mr. Stevenson suggested an amendment to strike out the second section.

Mr. Farnsworth said he desired to have the bill made a special order for Tuesday next.

Mr. Cullom said there was no objection to putting it on its passage now.

Mr. Holman and others—None whatever.

Mr. Stevenson—Let us pass it and be done with it.

Mr. Farnsworth—Very well; the bill is before the House. I move the previous question on its passage.

The previous question was seconded.

Mr. Butler of Massachusetts inquired whether the bill would cut off free newspapers.

Mr. Farnsworth—It does, it cuts off everything.

Mr. Butler—All right. [Laughter.]

The hour allowed for general discussion was occupied by Mr. Farnsworth, of the post-office Committee. Mr. Laflin, of the Committee on Printing, and others, closing with the following colloquy:

Mr. Judd—What is the total cost of printing.

Mr. Laflin—Somewhere near $1,700,000.

Mr. Wood made the point of order that under the rule no member should vote on any question in which he had an immediate and personal interest. [Laughter.]

The Speaker overruled the point of order.

Mr. Ingersoll inquired whether the bill cut off free exchanges of newspapers?

Mr. Farnsworth replied that it did. It did not require the prepayment of postage on all newspapers, but it did require the payment of postage on all newspapers and all letters.

Finally, the discussion was closed and the bill passed.

Marching Along.

The political revolution which has taken place in Missouri since the Border Ruffian era is one of the events which deserves mention among the most noted occurrences of the past fifteen years. The Missouri Democrat, in an article on the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment by that State thus notes the "marching on."

Fifteen years ago this State led in the invasion of Kansas and attempted to fasten slavery upon that Territory by force of arms. That infamous attempt, to which a Missouri Senator and Vice President gave countenance if not guidance, and to which Missouri ruffians gave all its force and ferocity, roused the whole North, created the Republican and broke up the Democratic party, and raised up in every State, stern, uncompromising, and resolute haters of slavery. Of these men, John Brown was the symbol and foremost—"a voice crying in the wilderness," proclaiming the coming great and glorious revolution. Virginia hanged him, through her Governor, Henry A. Wise; but less than ten years after, the daughter of John Brown taught a negro school in the abandoned mansion of Henry A. Wise, and to day Virginia asks admission to the Union under a constitution framed in part by negro delegates and passed by negro votes. Virginia had power to drag the maimed and helpless body of that man to the scaffold, but his spirit has proved mighty enough to crush not Virginia only, but the institutions and governments of fifteen States—not slavery only, but the very distinction of race and color, which slavery caused. The black man who fell in the engine house, fighting for his freedom, shot down by soldiers under command of Col. Robert E. Lee, was the forerunner of an army corps of black men who fought for the same sacred idea on many battlefields, and who marched into Richmond when Robert E. Lee was driven a fugitive toward Appomattox.

Americans who go now to Rome find there more of fashion than of talent. The clergy aside, the general visitors do not include many distinguished people. Some fifty years ago was the annual resort of perhaps the best society in the world. Beside the more brilliant or well of title there were such people as Sir Humphrey Davy, Sir Thomas Lawrence, Tom Moore, Samuel Rogers, Turner, Chantry, the Misses Berry and others, all coming and going, and leaving a mass which otherwise tended to degenerate into frivolity, pedantry and gossip. Lady Eastlake, in her memoir of her husband, treating of this, asserts that there was a higher tone in Rome half a century ago than there can be now. The magical city was more difficult of access, wealth was more exclusively in the hands of the better bred and educated, and people went for a longer time and with a more definite purpose. If, therefore, the Anglo Roman aristocrats prided themselves on an exclusiveness which is now of the past, they admitted, in self-interest, the unacknowledged votaries of letters and art within the circle. And, generally speaking, all were seen to advantage in a city where learning, taste and culture were the order of the day; where the blasé found perpetual novelty, the intelligent perpetual interest, and where a glorious climate shed health and good humor upon all.

CURRENT NOTES

A bill has been reported favorably on in the Legislature of Pennsylvania, authorizing the courts of that State to grant divorces in all cases where "the best interest of the plaintiff and the cause of public morality will be promoted." That's the Indiana platform.

It is remarked as a singular circumstance in the South African diamond diggings that all the diamonds have been found by natives and not by Europeans. The natives go on all fours, scanning the surface and scraping with their nails, while the European tries to maintain his dignity in an erect attitude.

The Army and Navy Gazette says the troops now stationed in British North America, will be withdrawn during the present year. At Halifax alone a garrison will be maintained at Imperial cost. A proposal has, however, been sent to all the colonies to allow Imperial troops to remain in each provided all the contingent expenses are defrayed by the Colonial Exchequer.

Another harsh measure has just been taken by the Russian Government against the Jews in the empire. By an Imperial ukase just published the Jews are to be liable to military service up to the age of 21, while the maximum age of recruitment for the Christians is 23. The same ukase provides that all Jews who will become Christians shall be exempted from military service altogether.

At the reunion of the 74th Ohio recently, at Xenia, Ohio, the Rev. Colonel Moody called attention to the supposed command he had given at Stone River, stating that he did not command his men, "Boys, say your prayers, and give them hell," but he did say, "Boys, say your prayers, and give them Hail Columbia," explaining, however, that the command being in the act of firing, did not hear the Columbia."

The New York Tribune of the 1st February has the following: We have been shown a rich variety of garden flowers gathered while still fresh and living in the open air at Port Townsend, on Puget Sound, on the 4th inst. Port Townsend is above the 48th degree of North latitude—considerably further north than St. Paul or Quebec. The mildness of climate which distinguishes our Western from our Eastern coast has seldom been more strikingly exemplified.

A Maine editor estimates that a foot of snow would be worth $50,000,000 to New England. Millions of feet of logs, he says, are lying in the forests of Maine and New Hampshire, awaiting the fall of enough snow to enable them to be hauled to market. The oxen and teams recently employed in the work are eating their heads off in the stables. teamsters are idle, and the owners of the lumber are troubled to get money enough to meet the actual expenses of living.

It now seems probable that Congress will re-enact the old census law, with some slight modifications. Dr. Snow of Rhode Island, a noted statistician, has prepared a statement, which the Senate has ordered printed, to show that the distribution of schedules under the House bill, requires the services of the 20,000 enumerators, on an average of twenty days each, at four dollars per day. This would consequently cost $1,600,000, in addition to $60,000 for the blanks.

"Now, gentlemen," said James Fisk, jr., as he bowed himself out of the presence of the investigating committee on the New York gold conspiracies, "Now, gentlemen, when you come to New York send me your cards, and come dine with me, and I'll show you round and take you to my grand opera house." "Thanks, Mr. Fisk, for your kind offers," said General Garfield, "and permit me to express the conviction that a first-class actor was lost to the world when you became the business manager." Prince Erie looked perplexed when he closed the door behind him.

Letter from Walla Walla.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

In your "Editorial Notes" of 5th inst., you allude to the Congressional aspirants from this county on the Democratic ticket. You name J. H. Lasater, F. P. Dugan and W. H. Newell as having coming to the surface and fell back again, and are now considered "D. D.'s" in the political pool. That is true. You give the preference to J. D. Mix, but say that N. T. Caton, Esquire, is a power in the land, the "most able man," etc. The "able part of this, was news to us, But that is all well enough, let that go. There is another Richmond in the field, and Esquire is weakening. Wm. B. Kelly, Judge, stock is looming up, and the "Buckinghams" of the Esquires are ready to go over—but not to J. D. Mix—they propose throwing their powerful influence(?) in favor of our esteemed fellow citizen Col. Smith, an old resident of this county, doing business on Main street, directly opposite Masonic Hall. The Colonel is a conservative Republican, a-la Moore, and for this reason is supposed to have strength enough, with the disgusted "Buckinghams," to beat J. D. Mix, "or any other man"—secure the nomination and——stay at home.

We have had no winter—weather delightful. Everything gives indications that the peach crop of this county will be as small as our next Democratic majority!

The weather is so fine that parties are leaving every day for the mines. They will be able to get through now much better than they will six weeks or two months hence; have less water to contend with in crossing streams and no muddy roads.

Business is quite lively. All in good spirits. Good times coming. * * *

The Mouth of the Mississippi.

A late Washington dispatch says:

Col. Louis Wolfley of New Orleans was before the Committee on Commerce of the House recently, and after giving some information regarding the mouth of the Mississippi river, submitted a proposition for keeping it open. The matter was referred to a sub-committee, consisting of Representatives Sheldon and Sawyer. The information and propositions are as follows: The meeting of salt water tides and fresh water currents causes rapid deposits, which the counter currents keep stationary. The action of the gases below the river's bed is constantly forcing tough clay upward. Mr. Wolfly offers the following proposition, with security for its faithful performance: For opening Pass l'Outre, a quarter of a million dollars, and keeping it open, $100,000 a year; opening the South West Pass, $50,000; keeping it open, $125,000 a year; opening both Passes, half a million of dollars; keeping them open, $175,000 a year, with channels 150 feet wide and 20 feet draft, commencing the work within four months and finishing it within a year after the contract; payment to be made after the work is done to the satisfaction of inspectors appointed by the Government. The War Department estimate is $375,000 for this year, and for both passes a preliminary sum of $600,000 for boats and machinery, and $200,000 yearly thereafter. The New Orleans Chamber of Commerce has endorsed, and called upon the Chambers of Commerce of the Western cities generally to endorse, Wolfley's proposition, and the machines to be used. Mr. Wolfley urged upon the Committee that the contract and necessary appropriations should be made whether his offer is accepted or not, as a few months of inaction renders all past labors useless, owing to the obstructing causes above mentioned. Col. Wolfley, in the conclusion of his proposition, says: "All interests in the great valley of the Mississippi should urge upon Congress the necessity of permanent and speedy relief most consistent with economy."

HUMOROUS LETTER FROM O'DONOVAN ROSSA.—The Flag of Ireland publishes a letter from O'Donovan Rossa, in reference to his return for Tipperary, which closes thus:

"The Chairman of the Directors gave us a special visit on Saturday, and asked me if I was not from Tipperary. I asked him about the election. He gave me permission to write to Mr. Gladstone. I intend to suggest to him the propriety of removing me to Millbank Prison. These lodgings are within view of the Parliament House, and if he complies, I will be able to do my bit of oakum and my bit of Parliamentary business with more convenience. I may offer him a suggestion, too, towards having the Tenant right bill regulate the rents according to Griffith's Poor law valuation, and no eviction except for non payment of rent. But I do not mean to make light of the honor or the compliment paid me, if it be true. I would duly acknowledge it if allowed. But 'gallant Tip' might easily find a worthier representative amongst the prisoners. Selecting me for the honor is on a piece with Fortune's making a football of me through life—one time throwing me on the ground and trampling me with her pretty little feet, and another time hitting me a kick that sends me spinning as high as the old woman who lived in the blanket. If these few words are unparliamentary, I have placed them where the Directors can easily scratch them out. I have read the poem, page 18, about the Faith and Dr. Cullen. It coincides just with my own ideas on the matter. Good bye, Governor, and fond remembrance to all."

LITERARY NOTES.

During the year 1869 two hundred and seventy-five new plays were produced in Paris. Of these ninety six were vaudevilles, fifty eight operettas, forty seven comedies, twenty nine dramas, fourteen comic operas, and twenty operas bouffes. Not a single new tragedy was performed during the year.

A hitherto unpublished letter of Sir Isaac Newton's has been printed in The Academy. It was addressed to Dr. John North, and was found among the papers of the late Mr. F. North, M. P. for Hastings. The letter is a critical examination of a treatise on music, but it concludes with the following: "I am much obliged to you for giving me notice of the objection made against my notion about colours. But ye experiment succeeds otherwise than tis reported. If you place your eye where ye blew light falls on ye wall so yt a by stander see your eye of a blew colour, you will at ye same time see ye Prism of a blew colour, & so if you place your eye in ye red light you will see ye Prism red. What colour a by stander sees fall on your eye you will see at ye Prism. wt I can affirm by iterated experience."

It was the invariable custom of Mr. George D. Prentice to rise early in the morning, some hours before his younger associates were awake, and to begin at once the labors of the day. As soon as it was light enough to see how to work, he usually began the task of overhauling the large pile of exchanges which had been carried to his room the night before from the room of the news editor. He looked over every newspaper as it came, and whenever he found an article suggestive of an editorial, or a paragraph suggestive of a witticism, he tore it out, seldom resorting to the use of the scissors, unless he found them lying conveniently at hand, and laid it upon his table, ready for use when the time for writing came. By nine or ten o'clock in the morning he was ready for his amanuensis, who usually came to his room about that hour, and he then began the serious work of the day.

The Cincinnati Gazette states that "The burning of Otterbein University, at Westerville, Ohio, renders it probable that one of the very valuable fac simile copies of Tischendorf's Codex Sinaiticus was consumed. It will be recollected that soon after Tischendorf's discovery of the very manuscript of the New Testament bearing the above name, the Russian government issued some fac similes at great expense. These were sparingly distributed among the great libraries and institutions of learning, only a very few coming to this country. On hearing of the work, some of the Otterbein faculty sent a letter to St. Petersburg asking the gift of a copy. The Imperial government was obliging enough to return a favorable answer, and the shelves of Otterbein were graced by the treasure. As before said, we fear it has now perished, leaving the admonition that such rarities should be kept in none but fire proof buildings."

PERSONAL ITEMS.

H. J. Raymond, E. M. Stanton, George Peabody and ex-President Pierce are the only Americans noted by the London Times in its list of the eminent dead for 1869.

A Western paper publishes the following correction;—"The words printed pigs and cows in Mr. Parker's letter on the land question, which appeared in yesterday's issue, should read pros and cons."

The King of Burmah intends to present each of the seven hundred and fifty Fathers of the Ecumenical Council with a pastoral cross, enriched with gems. That of the Pope is said to be an Oriental masterpiece.

The Princess Pierre Bonaparte has received numerous letters threatening death to herself and children. In consequence of this she has found it necessary to leave her residence at Auteuil, and to take refuge with friends at Paris.

Prince Arthur's regiment, the Rifle Brigade, is a very aristocratic one. Its list of officers comprise two who have dukes for their sires, three baronets, and fourteen who enjoy the prefix of "Hon." to their names, being sons of noblemen.

A recent Washington dispatch says: Governor Stearns and wife, of New Hampshire, are here, and will, it is understood, be the guests at the White House a part of the present week. The Governor had a reunion last evening at the house of Senator Patterson with the New Hampshire delegation and several leading Republicans, at which the condition of political affairs in the State was discussed. The fact that there are now four tickets in the field was alluded to, and the opinion generally expressed that the Republicans will carry the day in spite of the whole opposition.

OREGON.

The Blade gives an account of a Democratic colonization movement on the Wallamet river in Yamhill county, led by a man named Lambert. He has a lot of men who pretend to be chopping wood.

The Salem Dramatic club, under the management of Mr. Pierre Thayer, has engaged to play a season at Reed's Opera House. The company will open Friday evening, in the "Gamester," with Mr. Mallury as Beverly.

The Yamhill Blade says: Two prominent Democrats in this county, recently went to see two other gentlemen whom the Democracy hope to be able to proselyte before the next June election. The China question was broached, and our two Democratic Solons averred that a Republican Congress had appropriated a large sum out of the public treasury, to build Colleges in the Celestial Empire for the education of Chinamen!

THE USUAL WAY OF NAILING LEATHER SOLES on Rubber Boots makes holes quite through the Soles, which are sure to leak. These Leather Soles are fastened by anchors embedded in the Rubber when the Boots are made, but do not go through the Soles. The Boots are therefore perfectly Water-Proof, and the soles can be mended without making them leak. They will wear three or four times longer than the ordinary double sole Rubber Boots.

NATIONAL TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.—Wherea The Congressional Temperance Society of Wash ington City on the 16th of January last, made the following recommendation as reported in the dis patches of that date:

"Believing that the habitual use of intoxicating liquors as beverages, causes misery to every man and woman and child over ten years old, and that one million of members of Christian churches, millions of children in the Sabbath and public schools, and millions of others might be [illegible] to pledge their faith, truth and honor wholly to abstain from the use of intoxicating drink, it is recommended that simultaneous meetings in their several towns, townships, cities and wards be held on the 22d day of February next, the birthday of Washington, to unite in the organization of a Union Temperance Society, based on a simple pledge of total abstinence, and to adopt [illegible] measures to have such a pledge [illegible]; that from poverty, suffering and crime there is safety alone in total abstinence; that a personal pledge of co-operation will have the effect to tend to secure and maintain [illegible]. The Congressional Temperance Society [illegible] and [illegible] to Ministers of churches, all temperance organizations, human phil[illegible], and patriots throughout the land to hold [illegible] ings."

Therefore, the undersigned, friends of the temperance [illegible], unite in a call for a meeting at the Court H[illegible], in the city of Portland, at 7 o'clock P. PORTLAND LABOR EXCHANGE.—Col. Drake, the Secretary of the Board of Statistics and Labor Exchange, furnishes us some information which will be found of general public interest:

It will be remembered that some time ago, at the solicitation of the Board, Ben. Holladay, for the North Pacific Transportation Co.'s line of steamers, made a material reduction of emigrant fares between San Francisco and Portland; and the Oregon Steam Navigation Co., made a similar reduction. To prevent imposition or mistake, the Board undertakes to place certificates in the hands of actual emigrants, either at the place of starting or at some point on the route hither. Thus far these certificates have usually been procured by parties here who have relatives or friends intending to come to Oregon, and by them sent to the persons who are to use them. The total number issued to heads of families, is twenty-five, eight of which are for parties in Europe.

During this month, to date, there have been twenty nine applicants for employment, fourteen of whom have been furnished places.

Since the publication of the little pamphlet entitled "Oregon: Its Resources," etc., the Board has mailed 2,500 copies of it to persons and newspapers in the Eastern States and Europe.

The Secretary has procured tables by which he can give information to those desiring it, as to the routes and cost of travel, by rail or steamers, to all the principal cities and towns of the United States and the chief cities of Europe.

The Secretary now has, also, township maps of all the surveyed portions of Oregon and Washington Territory, and can give descriptions of all the vacant lands in the Southern or Roseburg district of Oregon.

BRIEF MENTION. The County Commissioners held a business session yesterday afternoon.

There was an immense crowd at the plaza mati nee yesterday.

The sociable at the Baptist Church last evening was, as usual, a pleasant affair.

Quite a number of new buildings have been commenced during this week.

At Harmony Hall last evening, Mr. Todd replied to Mr. Arnoup's second lecture against Spir itualism. A large audience present.

There are several West side Railroad men in this city on business, it is presumed, connected with the railroad.

A couple of hotels are to be reopened—the Cali fornia House by Mr. Jas. Lyon and the Mechanic's Hotel, by Capt. Fisher.

The Emmet Guard received by the Montana new caps which they will wear at their parade on the 22d.

A fire broke out at a Chinese wash house up town yesterday morning but was extinguishe without an alarm.

The broken shaft of the steamer Mary Bell ha been repaired and the steamer will be soon again making her regular trips.

The steamer [illegible] Troup brought over yes terday over a thousand barrels of salt.

The dredger, under the superintendence Capt. West will soon resume work at Swan Island bar.

NATIONAL TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT —Whereas The Congressional Temperance Society of Washington City on the 16th of January last made the following recommendation as reported in the dispatches of that date

"Believing that the habitual use of intoxicating liquors as beverages, causes misery to every man and woman and child over ten years old, and that one million of members of Christian churches, millions of children in the Sabbath and public schools, and millions of others might be persuaded to pledge their faith, truth and honor wholly to abstain from the use of intoxicating drink, it is recommended that simultaneous meetings in their several towns, townships, cities and wards be held on the 22d day of February next, the birthday of Washington, to unite in the organization of a Union Temperance Society, based on a simple pledge of total abstinence, and to adopt practical means to have such a pledge presented, that from poverty, suffering and crime there is safety alone in total abstinence; that a personal pledge of cooperation will have the effect to tend to secure and maintain such abstinence. The Congressional Temperance Society suggests and requests Ministers of churches, all temperance organizations, human philanthropists, and patriots throughout the land to hold these meetings."

We, the undersigned, friends of the temperance cause, unite in a call for a meeting at the Court House, in the city of Portland, at 7 o'clock P M on the 22d day of February next, for the purpose of uniting in a Union Temperance Society in accordance with such recommendation

PORTLAND LABOR EXCHANGE.—Col. Drake, the Secretary of the Board of Statistics and Labor Exchange, furnishes us some information which will be found of general public interest:

It will be remembered that some time ago, at the solicitation of the Board, Ben Holladay, for the North Pacific Transportation Co 's line of steamers, made a material reduction of emigrant fares between San Francisco and Portland , and the Oregon Steam Navigation Co., made a similar reduction. To prevent imposition or mistakes, the Board undertaken to place certificates in the hands of bona fide emigrants, either at the place of starting or at some point on the route hither Thus far these certificates have usually been procured by parties here who have relatives or friends intending to come to Oregon and by them sent to those who are to use them. The total number issued to heads of families, is twenty five, eight of which are for parties in Europe.

During this month, to date, there have been twenty nine applicants for employment, seventeen of whom have been furnished places

Since the publication of the little pamphlet entitled "Oregon : Its Resources," etc., the Board has mailed 3,000 copies of it to persons and newspapers in the Eastern States and Europe

The Secretary has procured tables by which he can give information to those desiring it, as to the routes and cost of travel, by rail or steamers, to all the principal cities and towns of the United States and the chief cities of Europe

PLUMMER.—The entertainment by Mr Plummer at East Portland, Tuesday evening, was attended by a large crowd who were so well pleased that they request him to do it again

FROM SAN FRANCISCO —The telegraph states that the steamship Ajax sailed for Portland at 11 o'clock yesterday

JIM FISK'S PHILANTHROPY —The New York Tribune thus amuses itself over Jim Fisk's testimony on the gold panic :

That eminent financier and philanthropist, Fisk, testifies that what our country needed last fall to give activity to her commerce, business to her railroads, and ample reward to her agricultural industry, was a good stiff premium on gold—that is to say, a further depreciation of greenbacks With this, everything would have been lovely, so that even Erie stockholders might have had a prospect of dividends , but the stolidity of Grant and the hostility of Boutwell defeated the great financier's good intentions, and sent everything to the confounded bow wows If Grant had only had any adequate conception of Wall street philanthropy, all would have gone right , but his notions "struck across" those of Fisk and Gould, and spoiled everything. "Our idea of a crash," says the great man who migrated hither from Boston to disseminate his philanthropic theories more widely than he could do from the Hub, "is to have all the milk and honey with us, and let the next fellow stand the brunt " In other words, we want to make the money, not to lose it. But General Grant didn't seem to reason it quite that way." That kicked the milk all over "'Twas ever thus since childhood's hour " So the crops couldn't be moved, and the farmers couldn't be paid for their year's work and the railroads could get no freight, and the weak merchants had to break, and the strong could make nothing but losses, and the whole country was plunged into anguish and despair—all because Grant and Boutwell couldn't appreciate the statesmanship, benevolence, and sound financial views of Jay Gould and James Fisk, Junior

An English traveler in California, who stopped at Clark's Ranch, near the Yosemite, thus describes the proprietor

"To look at him, with his rough dress, rougher beard, and trousers, Western fashion, into his boots, you might carelessly put him down for a coarse, tobacco chewing, swearing son of the forest. But take a flower or a fir cone in your hand, and ask him what it is He will give you at once its Latin name in soft and measured speech, and with courteous rejoinder He had a few books in the window of the hacienda I laid my hand at once on Goethe's Faust and Robertson's Sermons Again and again we met with combinations or contrasts of character in the same individual, which I think could hardly be found in the Old World "

For general family sewing no machine equals the GROVER & BAKER WM CURRIER & CO Agents

RAILROAD MATTERS are very likely to be lively this spring The East Side Company will engage a large force of men to complete their road to Albany and the West Side Company will very probably build a portion of their road in order to obtain a land grant to facilitate the building of their line to McMinnville Kohn & Fishel are keeping up with railroad times Their stock of spring goods coming across the continent by rail will be the largest and finest stock of Clothing ever imported to this State. Their stock in store now is offered very low to make room for large arrivals They are manufacturing the neatest Boys Suits and always have on hand a large stock of the same which are offered at lowest figures

VALUABLE The recent bill before Congress granting aid for the construction of a railroad from the Columbia river to Puget Sound If passed will make the large tracts [illegible] Homestead [illegible] the Skookum Chuck and Newaukum very valuable

A few shares only remain untaken and can be had at the office of the Secretary of Mr Conklin, Canvassing Agent

The Season and its Dangers.

The human body is chiefly composed of tissues and fibres as sensitive to every change in the condition of the atmosphere as the most delicate electrometer or the quicksilver in a barometer tube.

The stomach, the skin the nerves the lungs and the excretory organs are especially liable to be affected by these variations and the best defence against their disastrous tendency is to keep the digestive machinery, which feeds and nourishes the whole system, in good working order

If the stomach is weak or disordered neither the blood nor the bile can be in a healthy state, and for the fitness of these two important fluids for the offices assigned to them by nature, and the regularity of their flow, health in a great measure depends

When the air is heavily laden with chilling humid vapors, digestion should be an object of peculiar care If it is weak and languid the whole physical structure will be enervated If it is vigorous, the entire organization will be strong to resist the untoward and depressing influence of a damp and vitiated atmosphere

A pure and powerful tonic is therefore especially needed as a safeguard against the diseases most common in the wet season and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters being the most wholesome and potent medicine of the class at present known, a course of it is particularly advisable at this time.

The stomach will thereby be toned and strengthened, the liver and bowels regulated the nervous system braced up and nature put in a state of active defence against the miasma which superinduces intermittent and remittent fevers, rheumatism, nervous debility headache hypochondria and other complaints which are apt to assail the untoned and unfortified organizations The body is strengthened without exciting the brain and consequently no unpleasant reaction follows its reviving and renovating operation

Mr Stanton as a Minister of War — That Mr Stanton was an active, zealous, and successful war minister no one will deny On one memorable occasion his firmness saved the Western army from destruction It was after the battle of Chickamauga when the army of Rosecrans was in great peril A Cabinet meeting was called at midnight The President, Seward, Chase, Stanton and Halleck were present Stanton vehemently urged the immediate reinforcement of Rosecrans by troops from Meade's army The President and General Halleck were not inclined to weaken Meade in order to strengthen Rosecrans Seward and Chase were with Stanton The latter asked Halleck how many men could be sent to Rosecrans in ten days

"Thirty thousand if all other transportation is stopped," was the answer

"In five days?" asked Stanton

"Thirteen thousand

"They must go, Meade can spare them he must spare them The Western army must be saved"

[illegible] trade with Idaho and the more distant portions of Eastern Oregon can be retained for this city at the present rates of transportation These rates are but little less than those which prevailed five or six years ago ever before a wagon road had been constructed from California by way of Nevada Owyhee [illegible] [illegible] the transit [illegible] has been [illegible] considerable part of the freighting business [illegible] carrying trade in the Columbia [illegible] early rush [illegible] Yet it is hardly a matter of doubt that the great bulk of the freighting business might have been retained by this route by an early and liberal reduction of the charges between San Francisco and Portland and on the Columbia river The companies owning the steamers have ever chose to keep up the old prices while the trade day by day and month by month slipped away from them to the land routes till now it is scarcely worth retaining Now that the Pacific railroad brings freight so cheap we can never hope to have any trade with men [illegible] with Idaho till the Salt Lake and Columbia railroad shall be built Meantime there is danger also that the trade of all Eastern Oregon will be usurped by Chicago and western merchants shipping by way of the railroad and freight wagons Unless some considerable abatement of the charges be made very soon the experiment will be open for trial by the Chicago merchants This matter of transportation is one which materially concerns Portland as well as the steamboat owners

Our trade with Victoria and Puget Sound is still augmenting and [illegible] promises to be permanent The steamer [illegible] to sail to morrow will carry a full and varied freight of produce probably near 400 tons

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering on to a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation they all do suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians friends attend to these who are suffering with any of these horrible [illegible] destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Therefore be careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of base charlatans

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head tinging in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats monomania and frequently insanity If relief be not obtained at once apply immediately to Dr G either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any one who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtaining immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use, for [illegible] Enclose for the registered letter through Wells Fargo & Co

What the Hon W T Ballou says about the King of Pain

SAN FRANCISCO Dec 7 1869

Dr J J McBride Having suffered with sciatic rheumatism for months I was induced to use your King of Pain I take pleasure in recommending it to those afflicted with rheumatism I know of several cases of neuralgia that have been cured by using it

W T BALLOU of Elko Nevada

Card from Harbor Master

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec 2, 1869

T Dr McBride—This is to certify that I have been troubled with neuralgia in my right arm and hand for the past three months, and although I have had medical advice and tried a number of remedies, none has relieved me until I tried Dr McBride's "King of Pain" which has done me more good than all the other remedies I have tried.

DR. J. J. M'BRIDE,

TELLS YOUR DISEASE WITHOUT ASKING ANY QUESTIONS!

A CARD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct 16 1869

DR McBRIDE—My Dear Sir For the last six or seven years I have been afflicted with rheumatic pains from my knees down embracing all the joints of ankle and toes These pains have come upon me periodically every year about this season of the year My knees and ankles, and toe joints, and my wrists and finger joints would swell and leave me in the most agonizing pain, known only to those who have suffered from this dread malady These pains would continue for a period of from three to four months every year and they have been regular, unfailing annual visitors I have been accustomed to apply for relief to the best citizens of San Francisco, and have not failed to use all the popular remedies known to the public I would sometimes receive temporary relief after long continued application but it would never fail to return in a few days with increased severity

About two weeks ago, while my pains were upon me, I saw you at the corner of one of our streets, and heard what you said about your "King of Pain" I confess that I listened to you with deep distrust, indeed, I may say that I did not believe your statements "Still," thought I "it's only a dollar, and I'll patronize the 'humbug' one dollar's worth I bought a bottle and tried it first on my knee, which was fearfully swollen and from which I suffered very severely The second night I tried it again and my dear Doctor you can judge of my surprise, ecstacy and delight altogether when I found on rising the second morning that my pains were entirely gone, and the swelling entirely disappeared My knee joints were as supple as when I was young I actually danced with delight, much to the amusement of my friends who had been in the habit of regarding me as a decrepid old rheumatic It has now been two weeks and I have not felt the least symptom of return I believe I am cured and I feel so grateful to you that I offer you this statement verified by my oath to be used by you in whatever way you may think proper, and I feel it a duty to let others similarly afflicted know where they can find relief

I am yours, very truly RAPHAEL LOOKAYBE

State of California city and county of San Francisco On this 16th day of October, 1869, personally appeared before me, a Justice of the Peace in and for the city and county of San Francisco aforesaid, Raphael Lookayba, known to me to be the person who signed the foregoing letter, and who being by me duly sworn deposes and says the contents thereof are true

T W TALIAFERRO Justice of the Peace

TO THE PUBLIC

Grateful for the eminent services of Dr J J McBride I cheerfully make a statement of the following facts For twelve months I had suffered from prostration of my nervous system resulting in partial paralysis and almost total loss of sight A score of physicians had abandoned my case as hopelessly incurable I had even heard my days numbered by doctors and friends In the agonies of my neuralgic pain I sought the great King of Pain Under that benign influence in one half hour I had obtained more medical aid than I had known for long weary months My sight was so much restored that I could read print although I had needed a guide to find Dr McBride's office an hour before Before leaving him I had regained the use of my almost paralyzed limbs and seemingly my strength had returned while all those aches and pains my constant companions were dissipated and gone It is now [illegible] under his treatment with Dr McBride and I [illegible] say unhesitatingly that I am restored as I [illegible] expected to have been in so little time My eyesight is now perfectly regained [illegible] whole physical system [illegible] and [illegible] full of health

My residence is in Rent [illegible] the corner at N [illegible] Cambridge street in this [illegible] will willingly [illegible] to any one
